About Me

Self-taught Frontend Developer with 6+ years of professional experience, specializing in modern web technologies and delivering high-quality solutions. Known for strong self-motivation, exceptional time management, and consistent reliability in remote work environments.

Beyond development, I'm passionate about personal development through dancing (Bachata), fitness, and gaming, I bring sustained energy, focus, and positivity to every project and team collaboration.

Interactive Developer Platform

My portfolio is a platform where recruiters and teams can explore projects, interact with an AI assistant to ask role-specific questions, and leave feedback through a guestbook. It demonstrates end-to-end ownership across UI/UX, modern frontend architecture, CMS-driven content, and deployment-focused engineering.
